DREAM | BELIEVE | ACHIEVE

Today, we celebrated 'Red, White and Blue' day in celebration of the King's coronation tomorrow. The coronation will be another huge moment in history for the children to remember. Each child today has been given a commemorative coronation badge which we hope they will keep forever. We were so pleased that so many children entered the Crown competition. In assembly, we saw all of the regal entries in front of the whole school; they looked amazing. The children also sang the newly commissioned coronation song; 'Defender of Us All' which was lovely. During the day, the children have learnt all about the King and coronations. We felt it was important that the children understand what the coronation is about ahead of it being on the television on Saturday. If you are watching or celebrating then I hope you enjoy it.
