Book Week (3rd - 7th March) and World Book Day

This week was Book Week which has been full of excitement, creativity and a shared love for reading. At the start of the week, we hosted the author Steve Webb. He led workshops for each class. The younger children enjoyed the picture books 'Tanka Tanka Skunk' and 'Cows go Boo!' The older children loved his graphic novels featuring Peng and Spanners. Steve enjoyed his time with us and he said the children were all brilliant and asked great questions.

The reading ambassadors hosted a quiz in each classroom and it was lovely to see children of different ages sharing stories in the 'House' reading session. During the week the children have written some great comics with detailed illustrations. The theme of comics and graphic novels was brought to life yesterday with some wonderful costumes - thank you for your support with this and the book sale. Here are some photos from the week:
